Emergency calls

You can use your NetVoIP line wherever you can connect to the Internet, not just at your registered address. However, do not forget to enter your temporary location correctly in the emergency call settings in your NetVoIP account as otherwise you may not be transferred to the correct emergency switchboard and help may be late in arriving.

If you do use NetVoIP from another location and this information is not noted in the account, we advise making emergency calls from another device, e.g. a mobile phone.
